Reddit Redesign

Required Tool: Text Editor and Google Chrome Web Inspector

We all love Reddit. It's a brilliant place where you socialize with people you share similar interests, or just to kill time and look through cat gifs. However, its design reminds us of the 1990s. Let's give Reddit some new, fresh coat of paint using our knowledge of HTML & CSS!

Grading

- UI Aesthetics: 10 points
- User Experience: 10 points
- Write-up of your design decisions: 4 points
- Check-in: 4 points

- Total: 28 points

Disclaimer

You are not expected to create the "functionalities" for each view: when you click on a button or a link it wouldn't do anything. You are basically only creating a mockup.

Also, you are not required to create the UI for all the features in each view; for example, you may skip the calendar view in the main page.

Team

You will be working with a team of 3 students. If you want to form your own team, you must complete the Team Assignment form by SUNDAY, OCTOBER 4th at 1PM: Team Assignment Form There can be a maximum of 2 CS students per team. (intended CS counts as CS) Otherwise, we will form a team for you and will let you know of the team assignment by this Sunday. Don't worry - we make sure we have a magic formula to form a team with great chemistry & amazing skillset ;) It will be a great opportunity for you to meet awesome new people!

Check-in

You are required to check-in with your progress midway on Sunday, October 11th. Here's the form the check-in: Check-in form. You should sign up for a slot by leaving a comment under your assigned TA (Right click => Comment). Not all of your team members must show up, but at least two people should be present for the check-in.

We will review your design decisions midway, and will offer you help on design and/or programming side of your implementation if you need. You should complete at least one view by the time of the checkin to receive full credit.

Write-up

Please include a writeup explaining the design decision you made for each of the views in your submission. In particular, you should mention your design decisions in terms of: spacing, positioning, typography & images, and color.

Submission

Submit the following files as a zip file through Assignments under Resources tab of the WDD Portal:

- index.html
- list.html
- item.html
- assets/css/style.css
- assets/img/

Only one of your project partners need to submit the project files.

Your assignment must be submitted as a zip file. Submission will automatically fail if your submission does not contain the index.html or if is not a zip file.

This assignment is due by Thursday, October 22nd at 4PM.
